CONTESTED ELECTION.

The Republicans Likely to Resort
Flibustering.

THE INDIANS BEFORE THE PRESIDENT.

The Embargo Clause—Increasing
the Mail Superintendents—Other News
From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—[Special.]—Judge Crisp announced this morning that he would postpone until tomorrow further discussion on the "Lowry-White" Indians contested election case, and today was occupied in discussing private bills. The republicans will make a hard fight to retain Mr. White in his seat if necessary, the republicans will resort to filibustering to prevent his being unseated. However, it is hardly believed they will have to resort to the old game, as there will certainly be some democrats who will vote with the republicans in seating him.

The embargoes feature of the pending treaty with Great Britain is the only new feature, the others having been in the treaty as it stood before congress last year, and is the one of importance to the United States in order that Canada may no longer be a safe refuge for embezzlers fleeing from this country. There have been some changes made in these features, looking to a clear distinction between political offenses and crimes, and the dynamic clause.

The postoffice committee this morning reported favorably on Mr. Dockery's bill to expand the number of railway mail superintendents from nine to eleven, at the same salary—$2,500. Also, the bill to authorize the postmaster-general to lease suitable quarters for the Washington City postoffice. The owner of the present building, a regular old rookery, has increased his rent from $6,000 annually. For this reason the government wants better quarters, realizing the fact that a more suitable building can be secured for that amount.

The general rules are eleven in number. These rules authorize the appointment of commissioners and independent examiners to other places, the duties of which are chiefly manual. Only three names may be certified to the postmaster. The following officers may be appointed without examination: Assistant postmaster, cashier and assistant cashier; superintendents, designated as such by the postoffice department; custodians of money, stamps, stamped envelopes or postal cards, designated as such by the postoffice department, for whose fidelity the postmaster is under official bond.

Promotions may be made upon any test of fitness determined upon by postmasters, if not exceeded by five years' limitation is disregarded as to the grade of clerk, and the minimum for this grade is reduced from sixteen to eighteen years. The minimum for carriers is raised from sixteen to twenty-one years, and the maximum from thirty-five to forty years.

The house committee on war claims reported to the house today the bill to reimburse the several states for interest on money expended by them on account of railroads to support the rebels, worth $500,000,000.

A delegation of eight Indians representing the Comanche, Creek and Cadaw tribes called on the president today, and asked him to postpone action in the allotment of their lands.

Judge Stewart spoke before the committee on banking and currency yesterday, on the subject of taking real estate securities on loans. He favored it to an extent not to exceed one-fifth of the capital. It was referred to a subcommittee to confer with the secretary of the treasury, to see if some amendment could not be made to the present bill before the committee. Among other things he urged the point that the national banking system was unpopular with the democratic party, and the interests of the country, therefore, he had it organized, in a manner, so that the interests of the farmer, that his property would be taken in security. Many think the suggestion might make the system more popular by showing the farmer they could be accommodated by the banks.

Mr. Culberson's bill to repay the people of the south for $600,000 of captured and abandoned property is now pending before the judiciary committee. This bill allows the Indians the right to go after the property of claimants to establish their rights, and also allows one year after the passage of the act to take testimony on all claims.

The defendant and they must do something.

In a short time Myers ran into the office and said John R. McLean was bound to be elected. He met with his wife, who was married to a woman who came from Texas, and with a marriage certificate. He claims that she was the mother of an illegitimate child, so he left her. The letter was mailed on the trains between here and Texarkana, and it is not dated. He says he will go to work on a farm and conceal his identity, until he can save money enough to fight the case, when he will give himself up. The reward of $200 offered by the governor has been supplemented by another of $200, offered by the brother of the girl, married and left in Little River county.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

Six Children Locked Up in a Burning House in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., February 3.—[Special.]—The six children of Lester Singletary, a colored man of Clarendon county, were roasted to death in a burning house in the middle of the night. The parents locked them up in the house above seven o'clock, and went off to a negro church about two miles away, where a religious revival was in progress. During their absence the house caught on fire and was burned to the ground. The six children perished in the flames. The oldest child was a girl about thirteen years old, the next a boy about ten, three girls aged respectively nine, six and three years, and the youngest an infant of thirteen months. The charred bones of the victims were buried today in one grave.

THE NAME IS LONG.

But the Keroses Was Fatal All the Same—A Sad Accident.

MATAMOROS, Mex., February 3.—[Special.]—The little six-year-old son of Sena Anastacia Rios, met his death through a sad accident yesterday. His mother, while he was taking care of her, was suddenly seized with a fit, and fell down. She was unable to rise again, and died.

THREE DEAD BODIES

Weltering in Their Blood and Badly Mangled.

THE MURDERER COMMITS SUICIDE.

Ames Grant Found Swinging From a Rope—
Full Details of the Cause of the Horrible and Bloody Tragedy.

ALBANY, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Particulars of a horrible butchery and suicide in Baker county, were brought to this city last night by a drummer, Harry C. Kendall, of Macon.

Yesterday afternoon a negro, Henry Philips, went to call upon Amos Grant, a neighbor of his. It was thought that Grant was alone in the house, and his family gone to Columbus. Upon entering the kitchen, which is detached from the main part of the house, he found the body of Grant hanging by a rope. He was cold, and had apparently been dead some time. Philips went to Newnan and reported to Sheriff Galaway. Captain J. J. Grant and others were at the place, which is twelve miles from Newton. They found Amos Grant hanged. He had probably thrown the end of the rope over the rafter, fastened the other around his neck, and sprang from it into eternity.

The house was securely closed. It had but one room. Forcing open the door, a horrible sight met their gaze. The entire family of Amos Grant were discovered lying dead and terribly mutilated, showing that a horrible butchery had been committed.

On the bed was the mangled remains of his wife, Rebecca Grant.

In the center of the room, upon the floor, lay the body of his sister-in-law, Emma Harris. The head and face were crushed and beaten almost to a jelly.

Back of the bed on the floor in a pool of his own blood lay his thirteen-year-old son, Thomas Grant.

The stench arising from the bodies, which were in a state of decomposition, was sickening and ghastly. A further search revealed the weapon with which the dreadful deed was committed. Under the house they found an ax smeared with the blood of the three victims.

Amos Grant was a well-to-do negro farmer. He lived upon rented land, owned his own stock, and was in good standing and well thought of.

There was some ill feeling between himself and wife. It had increased so much of late, probably from the presence of a sister-in-law in the house, that his wife had avowed her intention of quitting him, with her family, feeling unable to live with him any longer. She intended to leave for Columbus on Monday.

On that morning Grant was met between his place and Sarag's store, and he told all the persons he saw that his family had left him that day.

It is supposed that on Sunday night, moved by a fit of desperation at their leaving him the next day, he killed them all. The next morning he went out to throw persons off the scent by telling them of their departure. Upon returning he realized the enormity of his crime, and conscience stricken, put an end to his own life.

A coroner's jury was empanelled with Captain J. J. Grant as foreman. They rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

THE TOWN IS GROWING,

And the People Are in High Glee in Consequence Thereof.

TALLAHASSEE, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The town is in high glee. She has not made much headway in the way of improvements for the last two or three years, but she is now coming to the front in a substantial and healthy way. Land is selling fast and at good prices. In fact, within the last few days fifteen or twenty lots, and the lumber is being hauled to almost all of them to be put into business and dwelling houses. W. R. Sweet has just completed a new storehouse in which he will keep his stock of goods for a week or ten days. William Berry has just completed a splendid storeroom. He is as yet undecided as to what he will do, occupy it or sell. Mr. T. A. Robinson is building a billiard saloon, etc., to be run in connection with his hotel. Col. W. D. Young is erecting a planing mill, etc., and is adding to his new hotel. Captain Harry Jackson, of Atlanta, has an engineer here locating a railroad line to the top of Hickorynut mountain. It is to be completed very early in the summer, and I am sure it will be a great success. Judge Thomas has commenced to lay the foundation of a large hotel on the highest peak of the mountain, 3,000 feet above the level of the sea. The Blue Ridge and Atlantic railroad will begin work early in the year. Captain Jackson and Judge Thomas have made this to make this truly the Niagara of the south.

ATHENS NOT PLEASED

Because Madison Is Being Brought Too Close.

ATHENS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—It is reported that the State Auditor, Dr. James M. Madsen, of the Macon and Covington Railroad, contemplates visiting Athens very soon. The local paper this morning contained an article calling the people's attention to the fact, and suggesting that the State Auditor should be given a hearty reception. The Constitution representative called upon a prominent citizen tonight and asked his opinion in regard to a public demonstration.

"I am not in favor of anything of the kind, and furthermore, I am very sorry to learn that the Macon and Covington railroad will be extended to Athens. Madison will then be able to compete with Athens in every way, and I am sure we will do no more harm than good, and I am in hopes no public ovation will be given these gentlemen. I can cite you to many leading citizens who will endorse my statement on this subject."

New Paper For Rockmart.

ROCKMART, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—It is reported that a new paper is to be started in Rockmart. We have not learned the name of the paper, but it is understood that the Constitution is to be its name. They may be modelled after near Cartersville. With two first-class papers, the town ought to rank among the first of the state in weekly journalism. The Weekly State was begun here a little more than a year ago, and its diligent editor has reached a point where he gives us a good, heavy paper.

Supplied With Public Documents.

THOMSON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The faculty and pupils of the R. E. Lee Institute were delighted today when the institute received by mail a large number of well bound public documents from Washington, D. C., for the library of the institution. This magnificent donation was made by Congressmen J. H. Blount, who is constantly looking after the interest of his constituents and the public's good.

Memorial Service.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—At the close of his service on last Sunday morning, Rev. Mr. Strickland, pastor Gainesville First Baptist church, announced that a memorial service for Dr. J. H. McElroy, who will be held in his church next Sunday morning. Mr. Strickland will preside. Addresses will be made by Judge Estes, Colonel H. H. Perry, and President Mitchell, of the Gainesville college, and Dr. W. C. Moore, of the Georgia Baptist Seminary of that city. Both are graduates of state university.

Locating in Cartersville.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The Chattooga-Savannah company is seeking a new location at this point, and have written to find out what concessions can be obtained. They have offered liberal inducements by the terms of their lease, and it is hoped that they will soon make the change. This would be an excellent point for their works.

Hawthorne Literary Circle.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The literary feature of Gainesville is the Hawthorne circle, which represents the culture and talent of both our colleges, and boasts on its list of members, lawyers, physicians, ministers, and many of our fair matrons. It meets weekly, and always presents a menu of highbrow literature, especially English novels, and various music, readings, and Trivias occupy the hours. Lately a very interesting essay by Major Moreton on the Shakespeare controversy was read, which excited a wide interest. St. John, the pastor, is president and takes a lively interest in the meetings. Colonel Perry is now due us an essay on Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

ATTACKED BY A NEGRO.

And Now the Negro, If Caught, Will be Attacked by Lynchers.

ATHENS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The inhabitants of east Athens were horrified yesterday when it was publicly known that a negro had attempted to outrage the beautiful little daughter of Mr. O'Kelly. Miss O'Kelly, the most lovely young lady, was returning yesterday to her home, about three miles from here, when she met a large negro, who commenced talking to her, using very obscene and offensive language. The young lady arrived at her home thoroughly exhausted. She succeeded however in making known to her father what had happened, and in a few moments a posse of men started in search of the villain. He is supposed to be hid somewhere near Longview, gathered at a hog-killing. Whisky was freely drunk, and a high old time of debauchery ensued. Some drunken negroes took possession of the boy Harrel, and loaded him up with rifle. He was then taken to the home of his brother-in-law, James Poole. No group of people were found at home, but three little children were there.

The boy deliberately sat down at his fleshly work. He set a candle filled with water in the brash chimney place until it boiled. Enticing the eldest child near to the fire, he threw it into the candle, and it was scalped to death.

A second child, about five years of age, met the same fate.

Grasping a third he endeavored to put it to the same death that only occurs in horrid fiction were supposed to deal out. The child resisted, and made a terrible outcry. Taking it to the log house he beat its head against a tree.

The sounds were heard by the returning parents, but the negro has not been caught.

LARRY GANTT IS SICK

And an Internal Revenue Raid is the Cause of It.

ATLANTA, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Colonel T. G. Gant has been confined to his bed for the last few days with a severe attack of rheumatism. Mr. Gant has just returned from an extended raid through the mountains of northeast Georgia, and it is thought he exposed himself too much on his trip. His friends hope very soon to see him on the streets again.

The Hawksville Revival.

HAWKSVILLE, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The revival services now drawing to a close at the Methodist church, and conducted by Rev. John B. Culpeper, has been without precedent in our town. Through a Methodist minister, yet the Baptist, Episcopalian and Presbyterians which were given an interest in them. Out of the seventy assemblies made to the churches during the meetings nineteen were made to the Baptist church, which goes to the Methodist. Last night at one o'clock, forty-eight applications were made for church membership. In many instances the hatchet has been buried, and now everybody feels good towards the community.

DR. YOUNG J. ALLEN IN MACON.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Rev. Young J. Allen, missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, to China, lectured to the express business of the city Sunday evening, giving a rare opportunity of learning the state of missionary work from one who has devoted nearly forty years to labor in the field. The lecture was issued from the Tribune office on Sunday morning, the weekly to the express business of the city.

The Chinese have consented to adopt our educational system and introduce our books into their schools, and as education is the foundation of government, Dr. Allen is anxious to raise money enough to build a college for the heathen, and it is for this purpose that he has made this visit to the states.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS' MEETING.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The regular meeting of the board of directors of the public library was held last night in the chess room. Several very important business matters were attended to. Fourteen names were added to the list of subscribers, and a very elaborate and interesting programme was arranged for the great coming Fourth of July. Several entirely new features were introduced. One of the most important and encouraging features was an audience of 1,000 persons.

THE SURVEY FINISHED.

COOLUMBUS, Ga., February 3.—Mr. C. M. Craigie, the engineer in charge of the Buena Vista extension, reached this city tonight. The first survey was completed to Buena Vista this morning. The survey of what is known as Cussetta, Ga., was commenced Monday. This line will pass about two miles north of Cussetta. The survey will be completed in ten days, and estimates turned over to the Central authorities.

WILLIAMSON IN WASHINGTON.

JEFFERSON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—James H. Williamson, left Tuesday to take up the position of clerk for our Colonel A. D. Campbell's committee on this subject. He has sold a faction in our county that was opposed to the colonel, and as between Candler and Lester the county is now largely in favor of Candler. He has made a faithful representative, and our county is willing to do him justice.

RETURNING FROM THE DANCE.

ATLANTA, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—While we found that he had left for a dance, Douglaston, the home of Dr. Alexander and Frank Brosin became frightened, and ran away, throwing them both from the buggy. Adams was severely hurt.

DEATH OF MRS. RUFFIN.

REYNOLDS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ruffin died at the residence of her husband, Mr. J. A. Ruffin, in this place, after an illness of about ten days. She was a widow, having several children, grandchildren and a large host of friends to mourn her departure.

THE AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION.

WAYCROSS, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The State agricultural convention assemblies here on the 13th, 14th and 15th inst. There will be delegates here from all over the state, and a meeting is to be held on the 16th.

ANNUAL MEETING IN ROME.

ROMA, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Quarterly meeting will be held at the M. E. church last Sunday by Rev. Mr. Weyde, presiding elder of the Gainesville district.

THE ORDER OF TON TI.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—The order of Ton Ti is something in the line of an insurance company, and has been represented here about a year by City Treasurer O. F. Adams.

IN THIS SHORT TIME THE MEMBERS, WHICH NUMBER FORTY, HAVE PAID INTO THE TREASURY ABOUT THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS AND DRAWN OUT OVER SEVEN HUNDRED. IT IS EASY FOR ONE TO SEE FROM THE ABOVE RECORD THE ADVANTAGES OF BEING A MEMBER.

MAISON PAPER PARAGRAPHS.

MACON, Ga., February 3.—[Special.]—Professor Mallet arrived from down on the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad this morning, where he had been to arrange for the appearance of Dr. J. H. McElroy, who is to speak at the annual meeting in Rome on Monday, and at Eastman on Tuesday.

Mr. Alexander Brown left for Birmingham this morning. He will return on Tuesday before leaving for Atlanta.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar in the confidence it gains among all classes of people. When it becomes a favorite remedy, and is often adopted by the standard family medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla is also peculiar in its phenomenal sales, standing today in The Peculiar kind in the country. Hood's Sarsaparilla is strong and economy—100 doses one dollar. Dose, Jigger. Dose, Dr. Parker, Danielson, and other valuable vegetable remedies. To itself much smaller doses of Hood's Sarsaparilla are used to cure with other medicines. A dollar bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains a average of more than 100 doses, and will last a month, while other preparations will average to last not over a week.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is also The Peculiar in its general appearance, it is perfectly clear, clean, and beautiful as compared with the mucky, gritty make-up of other preparations.

If you have never tried this peculiar medicine, do so now. It will purify your blood, give you appetite, tone your whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.
